Consolidation & Cost Savings Story

Before Pathify, Alabama A&M University (AAMU) connected students to systems, information and resources through a patchwork of disparate systems, including a “landing-page” portal, mobile app, chatbot and employee intranet.

These siloed systems created disjointed student experiences, unnecessary I.T. overhead and increased technology costs.

Recognizing the need for a more integrated, efficient approach, AAMU consolidated their portal, app and chatbot into Pathify — saving $25k/year and reducing budget by 18%.

“Pathify transformed the way we connect our students to information. Now, students are connected with everything they need from a single, unified platform. The financial savings are substantial but the most significant benefit comes from how much smoother, modern and intuitive our student experience has become.” -Ryan Adkins, Cloud Application Administrator, Alabama A&M University
